Math:

We are wrapping up our chapter on metric units of measurement. We will check our comprehension through the chapter so far, work on converting metric units, solve measurement problems and wrap up our chapter with a review of the material.

Reading:

"The Grand Canyon: A Trail Through Time" will be our story of the week. We will discuss the genre of the story and our vocabulary words. We will build a background, learn about the author, and take a comprehension quiz over the story. We will also go through our Scholastic News.

Science:

This week we will learn about particle nature of matter. We will have our "before the video" questions, our vocabulary and then watch the video. We will then have a comprehension worksheet over it.

Writing:

We are continuing our imaginative writing this week with prewriting, discussing types of imaginative literature, plotting events, and how to integrate narrative events.

Spelling:

This week our spelling words will have three syllables. We will discuss syllables and how to identify them. We will work in the quizlet app, practice with Cherry pie, review on Kids A to Z and take our test on Friday.

Social Studies:

We are still working on learning about the west region of the US. We will learn about the economy, the geography, and how settlers traveled to the west.

Grammar:

Frequently confused words are the topic this week in Grammar. We will discuss its and it's; there, their, and they're; two, to and too and how to tell which of these words we need in our sentences.

Have a great week!
