Reading:

This week in Reading we will be learning about Benjamin Banneker. We will complete a packet and booklet about him. We will learn his contributions to our society and why he is a prominent person in history.

Spelling:

Our final spelling list of the year are words with silent letters. They will prove to be tricky for the phonetic speller. We will work with the words all week and have our final spelling test on Friday.

Science:

This week in Science we will learn about energy transfer and how it is completed. We will then discuss balance and unbalanced forces and how we see them in every day life. Finally we will look at all the human body systems and how they work together.

Writing:

This is our final week in writing so we will wrap up our imaginative writing pieces. We will plot the events, finish the draft, conference, and publish.

Social Studies:

We have finished up our Social Studies book so we are wrapping up our SD Road trip towns. We will travel to Yankton, Chamberlain and Bison for our final stops.

Grammar:

Wrapping up our grammar we will work on spelling irregular plurals, spelling words with endings and words with suffixes and then review the material.

Penmanship:

We will continue to do our Daily Oral Language this week. We will work on editing sentences with spelling, grammar, punctuation and capitalization mistakes.
