Upcoming Dates:

Nov 25-27: Thanksgiving break / No School

Dec 3: PK-5 Christmas concert

Math:

We will be wrapping up our chapter on multiplication with multiplying with regrouping, multiplying across zeros and then review for test.

Reading:

"My Diary From Here to There" is our story of the week. We will discuss the vocabulary with the story, the genre, the author, and read the story. We will take a comprehension quiz over the story on Friday like always. We will also do Daily Oral Language each day.

Science:

"How and why does the motion of two balls change after a collision?" We will discuss energy transfer, collisions and force.

Spelling:

Our spelling words this week are homophones. We have had a list like this earlier this year. We will work with them during the week and test on Friday.

Social Studies:

We will be discussing the Declaration of Independence and delegates. We will review on Tuesday and have our quiz on Friday.

Grammar:

Modal auxiliaries are the topic this week. Words like (may, might, can and could) or (would, should, must) are a few examples.

Writing:

We are wrapping up our book this week and finishing reading the Apex predator reports.

Have a great week!
